Operations:

The user will be able to hover each district showing an overview of that county.

Clicking on a specific region will result in a more detailed political and financial data pertaining to that county.

There will be larger buttons on the map to display different kinds of geographical data.

The districts colored by intensity to show the amount of prisons in the vicinity (initially) but can be changed to display other relevant attributes.

Focus & Zoom

Menu displays relevant information about the political and financial aspects of the county in relation to the prison system. It also gives more specific data regarding the prison density.

Discussion

- Advantages
  - Easy to analyze data geographically, and filter that information as the user desires.
  - Allow the user to quickly spot clusters of private prisons.
  - Interactive components encourage exploration, but also allow people with specific goals to quickly find the data they need.
- Disadvantages
  - Doesn't show the interconnectivity of money in politics as clearly as some users may like (this data is in the details).
  - Does not allow detailed comparisons between counties side-by-side.
  - If done improperly we risk cluttering the zoom menu with too much information.
